

Press release - Hosted Exchange

Telecommunication company Telefónica O2 has introduced its new service – O2 Business Mail, which is based on the Emeldi's solution called Hosted Exchange. It is a server application for administration and secured sending of emails including controlling of all advanced functionalities starting with calendar through shared folders to antivirus filter. The new solution had been developed in cooperation of both partners –Telefónica O2 performed the configuration of its exchange servers and Emeldi Group provided the made-to-measure application Hosted Exchange.

New provided service- O2 Business Mail based on Emeldi's solution called Hosted Exchange provides to Telefónica's customers all functionalities as in case of keeping their own Microsoft Exchange server. The biggest benefit of Emeldi's solution can be considered the significant expenditure reduction especially on staff and administrator training apart from necessary investments in software and hardware. Another advantage of offered solution is an easy implementation into the current email infrastructure. Just after the DNS reconfiguration the customer can immediately start to use the application.
